Project 2 – Wall Plaque

Using Crafters cement with polystyrene 'cut-out' to create a wall number or plaque for an outside wall that looks like its been carved out. You can choose either a "solid rusted metal" finish, or "sandstone" finish.

What you will need:

Polystyrene squares (5ml thick and 20ml thick)
Candle
Craft Knife
Pins
Tracing Paper
Pair of scissors
Marker
Paintbrush
Wood Glue
Bucket
Crafters Cement Kit

STEP 1

Draw your number or design onto tracing paper to make a stencil.
(TIP: Where you have drawn a line, thicken that by 1cm)

STEP 2

Cut-out all the negative spaces using a pair of scissors

STEP 3

Pin down 'cut-out-stencil' onto thin polystyrene square.
Draw the outline of your stencil with a marker.
Remove stencil when done, leaving the outlines on the polystyrene square.

STEP 4

Pull out the blade of your craft knife as far as you can.
Heat up the blade using a candle flame.
Use hot blade to cut away the negative spaces of polystyrene.

STEP 5

Glue down cut-out 5ml polystyrene onto 20ml polystyrene square.

STEP 6

Make a cement mixture with 'Special Crafters Cement Kit' in a bucket (must be like a pancake mixture) and paint the sides, top, inside gaps and on the back.

Leave to dry in sun for 10 minutes

STEP 7

Paint a second layer and leave to dry for another 10 Minutes.

STEP 8

When bone dry, you can enhance your number or plaque by colour-staining the item with Crafters Cement Kit.

You have a choice of a Sandstone look or a Solid Metal Look!

To protect your plaque, you can spray-varnish it.

To stick it down, you can use double sided tape or prestik (no more nails).
